Causal backchaining

We have often processed data gathered specifically for evaluation purposes using "causal back-chaining". But we often process secondary data which was not specifically intended for causal coding.